Sponsorship Opportunities

The Board of Executive Protection Professionals (BEPP) is committed to elevating standards within the Executive Security Operations community. Observing a gap in existing industry conferences, the BEPP sought to create a more dynamic and valuable experience for professionals in the field. This aspiration culminated in the establishment of the Executive Security Operations Conference (ESOC), founded and hosted by the BEPP itself.

Unlike conferences primarily driven by profit, the BEPP took a principled and meticulous approach to developing the ESOC. Our primary goal is to provide an unparalleled conference experience for attendees, deliver maximum value to our sponsors.

About the ESOC

The ESOC is a two-day conference where industry leaders, decision-makers, and executive protection professionals convene to participate in insightful educational sessions and cultivate meaningful relationships.

To set the benchmark for Executive Protection Conferences, ESOC prioritizes three key areas:

1. Expertise: We deliver engaging presentations led by renowned experts, addressing current, relevant, and critical issues facing the industry.
2. Networking: Our Executive Receptions offer invaluable opportunities for professionals to connect, exchange ideas, and boost their visibility within the field.
3. Tangible Resources: All attendees receive key takeaways, including professionally printed and bound conference materials and our Advance and Logistics Guidebook.

The ESOC stands as the premier conference for executive protection professionals, attracting attendees from leading Fortune 500 companies and countries worldwide. It boasts a roster of top-notch presenters, delivers high-quality content, and fosters unmatched networking possibilities.
